
WORLD A HOAX

Feel sometimes that we are living a hoax

Khanjan Vaidya - 19 September 2019

Introduction

Ever felt that everything in the world doesn't perfectly fit. Not that the world is not perfect but it feels sometimes that something is wrong somewhere. How a person leaves a rather important position and suddenly dies and someone who is too dumb to do basic math is a millionaire. The reality is we are not controlling the globe some people are controlling us and we are just living in illusion. The government all the social networking all the Jobs everything is created for a purpose . We work for a purpose we don't know , we are fulfilling someones plans and not even have a hint of the person or the plan we all are working for. Take an example for a school we are taught all the subjects which is impossible to grasp nobody can get all the subject correctly . Just imagine if you are give all the food in the world to eat would you be able to digest it.

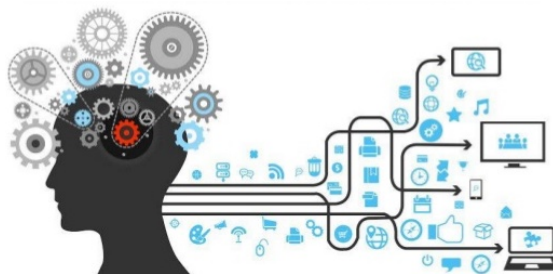

And now imagine you are given a computer in childhood and you are just taught some basics, after a little time you would explore all the things on your own their would be no need to be taught you would only know a single subject but it is better than knowing many subjects incompletely. It is discovered that a child can learn things very quickly as they are still in their unconscious state of mind. If we somehow teach a child quantum physics we could explore new things the child would open his gates to imagination as no one has ever opened.

Fake Education

So, what is the use of the current education system which takes away your ability to imagine and just makes you a learning machine. Experts say that today's education system is designed to fulfil the purpose of the invisibles i.e the persons ruling the world from the behind. If we think deeply it does not make sense to spend $ 2 million for studying when the bank will give 100 grand every year just as interest . We are just trained in a way that does not allow us to think outside the box.

Government also comes from the same basket they are just made to create a false sense of security and social awareness governments if wanted can change the world in few decades but they are also busy in tasks that can not be inferred from outside the world hoax is created on such huge scale that it would not be easy to figure out what is true and comes from the people . A point is that we also don't know that are we controlled by a group of people or group of extraterrestrial organisms which are developed mentally as well as technologically. There is a chance that they might be with us from the very beginning or it doesn't make sense how in a century we are planning to go to mars, machines are learning which were not able to perform a simple algorithm a few decades ago are now able to differentiate between humans. How are we getting connected so fast when it was difficult to transfer a message some time ago. All this points only in one direction that someone wants us to be always connected or always be on a network so proper watch could be done . Someone felt that they are losing control and it was difficult to watch such a huge number of population so they introduced social media in our world. Now they can know whatever they want by just accessing a database. For all the data Scientist making database for their use or they think what is their use there might be acute possibility they are helping maintain records of the world for the people in control. As no one could maintain such a huge database without a hell lot of people so they introduces BIGData. Then the problem was where to take data from so there comes all the smart devices which we use in our daily life.

It is possible that all the economy also is just the way to keep us busy not giving us time to think about how the world functions there are very few people on this globe who understands how the whole world functions. Also it is a difficult task to maintain law and order if a situation like global crisis is coming so some information is better left unsaid . But there is a lot of chances that this world is ruled by not someone we know or we see pictures of . Some examples for that is the famous Cicada puzzle and the ILLUMINATI.